

Licking County Health Department

2009 SEASONAL FLU CLINIC SCHEDULE

The Licking County Health Department will begin this year's seasonal flu clinics in mid-September and run through mid-October. There may be additional programs for flu offered later in the year to cover the H1N1 virus strain, but those will be announced when more information becomes available. Flu vaccine is recommended for high-risk individuals including the elderly, anyone with a long-term health or immune problem, infants (6 months or older), all children, and teens. Healthy adults are also encouraged to get the seasonal flu vaccine. Pregnant women are strongly urged to get flu vaccine this year.

Medicare, MediGold, and Anthem will be accepted for seniors covered by Medicare. Others covered by Medicaid can present their cards for this coverage. For those not covered by these programs, there is a $25 fee; however, no high-risk individuals will be denied service due to inability to pay. Fees for children are $10 each with a maximum of $40 total for all children per family.

The following clinics are set-up to primarily serve adults. For families with children, please come to one of our children's clinics. Phone (740) 349-6535 or check www.lickingcohealth.org for more information.
