What You Should Know

The Quick Response Team (QRT) is a collaborative effort between local law enforcement, treatment providers, and peer support to respond to non-fatal Opioid overdoses in an effort to save lives, reduce harm, and increase hope for recovery for individuals struggling with Opioid addiction in Licking County.

The intent of QRT is to outreach individuals in the critical hours of need following an overdose to provide compassionate and non-judgmental support to the individual and their family by connecting them to resources and treatment options. We recognize addiction is a painful disease and that not all those struggling with the disease are ready to make the changes needed.

The QRT program is designed to support individuals and families in a way that reduces harm and increases safety, while bridging the gap from active addiction to treatment and ultimately, recovery.
